

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

All about job hunting.

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's backgrounds in a wider variety of communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- Do you like looking for a job? Why or why not?
- What do you think is the most important thing to do when you are looking for a new job? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs, work, manners and customs.
- I can talk about what I should, ought to, had better, or am supposed to do.
- I can talk about future action.

Let's Explore!

Are you on the hunt for a new job? Sally blogs about some job hunting tips.

* To be "on the hunt" means to be looking for something.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Dear Readers,

In response to your questions, I've compiled a list of tips for job hunting.

1. Update and customize your résumé

Your descriptions should be written in a concise and detailed way. Focus on the most recent and most significant information. Any personal pronouns are supposed to be removed and the length should be kept to two pages. You ought to customize your resume for each potential position you apply for.

2. Network

Career specialists will tell you that networking is the best way to land a new job. You ought to contact professionals in your field and let them know you're on the hunt. You should also ask them to serve as references. Job fairs and alumni groups are considered to be great networking routes.

3. Google yourself and get creative

You had better do a basic internet search about yourself and see what pops up. You should also set any of your social networking profiles to "private". That means they are made unavailable for viewing by any potential employers. You should consider using an alias on Twitter as that shall make it hard for people to search for you.

I hope these tips will help land you that dream job! Happy hunting!

Let's Practice!

Let's add more words to talk about work!

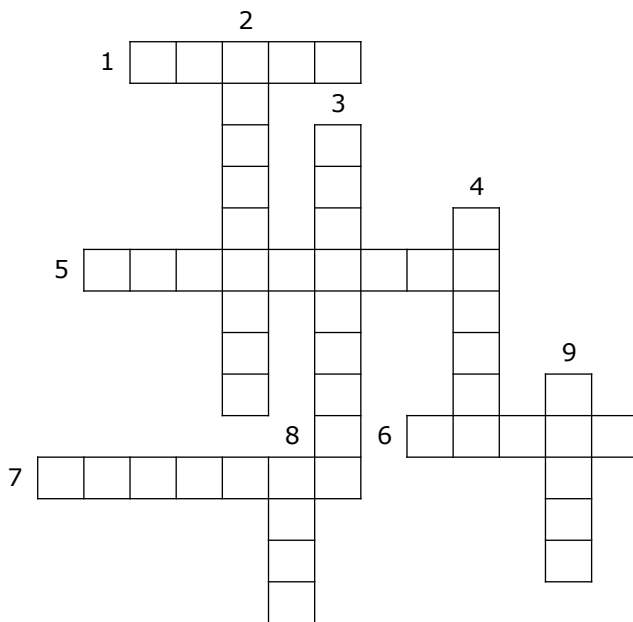

Instructions: Complete the crossword. First, read each clue. Then, write your answer.

Down

2. A r_____e is someone who knows you, to describe you and say if you are suitable for a job.
3. When you make or change something according to the buyer's or user's needs you c_____e it.
4. Men and women who have completed their studies at a college or university are called a____i.
8. To l____d means to get or achieve something good
9. If you give a false name you are using an a____s.

Across

1. If you s____e as something you help achieve something or be useful at something.
5. P_____l is another word for possible.
6. Your f____d is your area of study or work.
7. C_____e means create a list by taking information from different resources.

Let's Practice!

Jose expresses his opinion about working on theater night.

Instructions: Read the sentences. Match the two halves to correctly complete the sentence.

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|---|
| 1. I think theater people | a. _____ like to go to the theater. |
| 2. According to Frank | b. _____ are very fashion-conscious. |
| 3. It seems that people in Boston | c. _____, the theater crowd are a trendy bunch. |
| 4. Frank thinks that Jose | d. _____ is ready to fill in. |
| 5. Jose seems to | e. _____ me that Jose is ready. |
| 6. Frank seem to | |
| 7. It seems to | |

Extension Activity

Write a customized résumé.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Look at an employment site on the internet.
- Choose a job that sounds interesting to you.
- Write a customized résumé for that job. If you don't have any work experience, invent a résumé.
- Include experience that you think is relevant to the job you are applying for.
- Exchange résumés with a partner and give your partner some suggestions on how to make his/her résumé even better.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I talk about jobs, work, manners and customs.

☐ ☐

I talk about future action.

☐ ☐

I talk about what I should, ought to, had better, or am supposed to do.

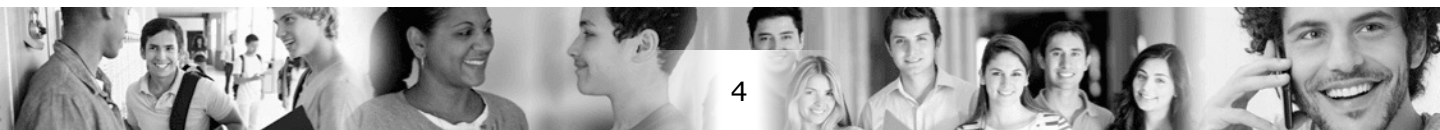

☐ ☐

I write a customized résumé.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to compile (verb): to create a list by taking information from different resources
e.g. In response to your questions, I've compiled a list of tips for job hunting.
- to customize (verb): to make or change something according to the buyer's or user's needs e.g. You should update and customize your résumé for each job application.
- potential (adjective): possible
e.g. You need a different résumé for each potential position you apply for.
- to land (verb): to get or achieve something good e.g. Career specialists will tell you that networking is the best way to land a new job.
- field (noun): area of study or work
e.g. You ought to contact professionals in your field.
- alumni (noun): men and women who have completed their studies at a college or university e.g. Job fairs and alumni groups are considered to be great networking routes.
- to serve (verb): to help achieve something or to be useful as something e.g. You should ask colleagues to serve as references.
- reference (noun): someone who knows you, to describe you and say if you are suitable for a job e.g. A potential employer will ask for your references.
- alias (noun): a false name
e.g. You should consider using an alias on Twitter as that shall make it hard for people to search for you.

Learning Points

The Simple Present Passive

When you want to focus on the doer of an action, you use the active structure of a sentence.

When you want to put the focus on the receiver of an action, you use a passive structure.

Active sentence = You (subject) should write your descriptions (object) in a concise way.

Passive sentence = Your descriptions (subject) should be written in a concise way (by you).

It is not necessary to mention the object in a passive sentence.

You make the passive form of a verb by using tenses of the be verb followed by the past participle.

The Simple Present passive form is:

Subject + is/are + past participle

Example:

Job fairs are considered to be great networking routes.

Examples:

- Your descriptions should be written in a concise and detailed way.
- Any personal pronouns are supposed to be removed.
- That means they are made unavailable for viewing by any potential employers.

Learning Points

Talking About the Future Using Will and Shall

You use will and shall to give information about the future or to make predictions (talk about what we think or guess) about the future.

Modal Verb	Structure	Example
Will	Subject + will + verb Will + subject + verb ?	Career specialists will tell you that networking is the best way to land a new job. Will you consider reviewing the final report?
Shall Shall is quite formal and generally avoided in conversation.	Subject + shall + verb Shall + subject + verb ?	You should consider using an alias on Twitter as that shall make it hard for people to search for you. Shall I call again next week?

Examples:

- Career specialists will tell you that networking is the best way to land a new job.
- You should consider using an alias on Twitter as that shall make it hard for people to search for you.
- I hope these tips will help land you that dream job!
- Shall we dance?
- Will you be having a birthday party this year?

